

It was April 22, 2011, Good Friday, and while roofers were at their labor on the garage, sparrows shivered on budding dogwood trees. The seed feeder emptied daily to lift their calorie intake. Clouds hogged the Vitamin D and ground sogged up the rain: spring had not sprung.